Jazz inspired folk-pop duo from Nashville, TN, Jenny & Tyler began writing music together five years ago when they met at the University of Delaware. They combine their jazz and bluegrass backgrounds to create a new sound dubbed as "soulgrass". Jenny & Tyler's music is part social commentary, part personal testimony, part warm and fuzzy.

Krista Parrish and Nini & Ben

Saturday, July 10, doors open at 7 p.m., show starts at 8 p.m.

Advanced tickets: $12, Day of show: $15

Kennett Flash, 102 Sycamore Alley, Kennett Square, PA

At a glance Krista Parrish will likely draw you in with her beauty and contagious smile but below the surface is a deeply intellectual, timeless songwriter. She sings with an exceptional range, writes clever lyrics that will touch your heart, and plays the strings off a guitar. Krista's picking style, percussive strumming and two-handed finger tapping technique present a unique quality to every performance.

Nini and Ben were two sixteen year olds en route to a birthday party, and realized they didn't have a gift. "Let's write him a song," they thought. Unbeknownst to them, that afternoon sparked a partnership between two songwriters who would fall in love with each other, and the gypsy lifestyle they were bound to lead. This simple and unpredictable way of living has yielded the most profound moments of their lives that are captured in their warm and expressive songs. The duo has spent years performing all over the U.S., Europe and Australia. "Spirited high-lonesome folk-blues." -The Boston Globe "Poignant. Bare bones simple. The songwriting is charming... always honest, never showy. I'm glad I'm seeing them now before it costs $45 on Ticketmaster." -The Groove

James Maddock and Laura Tsaggaris

Saturday, July 24, doors open at 7 p.m., show starts at 8 p.m.
Advanced tickets: $12, Day of show: $15
Kennett Flash, 102 Sycamore Alley, Kennett Square, PA

James Maddock's debut album, Songs From Stamford Hill, was showcased on popular TV dramas such as Dawson's Creek, while Wood was touring with the likes of Paula Cole and Train. Now, at the end of the next decade, Maddock is back as a solo artist. Ten years after his debut, Maddock has created a heartbreakingly lovely debut solo album, Sunrise on Avenue C. His timeless songwriting style, which seems to draw from great songwriters of every era, conveys quiet confidence and lovely intimacy.

Laura Tsaggaris's musical palette includes varied instrumentation, arrangements and genres. Her recently released sophomore disc, "Keep Talking," underscores her creativity, from the rocker "Warning Signs" to the blues-inspired title track. The result is sort of Bonnie Raitt meets Sheryl Crow, with some Cortney Tidwell and Candice Night mixed in. That's not a negative. When a singer-songwriter builds an array of songs, often arising from a solid pop foundation with a splash of blues, a touch of rock and a hint of soul, that affirms a genuine musical gift.

Fitzmaurice Band and Manatawny Creek Ramblers

Saturday, July 31, doors open at 7 p.m., show starts at 8 p.m.
Advanced tickets: $12, Day of show: $15
Kennett Flash, 102 Sycamore Alley, Kennett Square, PA

Bluegrass & Roots Band Night

With influences spanning bluegrass and country to jazz, classical and classic rock, Fitzmaurice Band has developed a sound truly its own. The energy, interplay and synchronicity the band possess is characteristic of the most seasoned of bands, and their love for music comes across with perfect clarity, absorbing the audience into their experience and generating a genuine bond between listener and performer.

The Manatawny Creek Ramblers are a bluegrass band from the hills of Berks County, PA playing a mix of traditional and original music. Daniel Bower (guitar/vocals), AKA “Skrappy,” is joined by four like-minded musicians; Michael Beaky (banjo/vocals), Kris Kehr (mandolin/vocals) and bassist Josh Scurman. Since 2004 the band has built a mixed repertoire of classic bluegrass tunes by the likes of Bill Monroe, Don Reno, The Stanley Brothers, Del McCoury and Flatt & Scruggs as well as an array of original material.
